Becoming a Chatham Marconi Volunteer

Volunteering at Chatham Marconi is a great opportunity to help preserve local history and promote learning for people of all ages. The team at Chatham Marconi includes individuals with many different skills and interests, and there's a place for you!

Preparations are underway for the 2021 season, so this is the perfect time to join the team in whatever activities match your interests and schedule. While we confront COVID concerns, many of our meetings and programs are held via Zoom, and remote participants are always welcome.

The Volunteer View

"What do I like about volunteering at Marconi? First, the technology is fascinating, but the best part is the people! Everyone is so helpful and dedicated, and it makes for a fun and very educational experience. It is amazing what went on here for so many years, and the passion of the many people involved in telling the story is remarkable! There is a sense of community that is heartwarming. I'm glad I'm here!" -- Glenn Greenough

Consider the Possibilities...

There's a place for everyone at Chatham Marconi. We encourage you to consider how you can become a part of our volunteer community, learning new things, sharing your skills, and meeting new people.

Volunteer involvement takes many forms and reflects individual interests and backgrounds. The Center offers opportunities to apply a range of skills, but no special talents are necessary, and learning is part of the fun.

Even if you have only an hour a week to spare, you're welcome on the team.

Here are some possibilities to consider, and they're just the beginning...

- Welcome visitors to the museum or guide them through exhibits.
- Promote programs and exhibits through news and social media.
- Teach a class or support school-based

STEM instruction.

- Work with a committee to plan exhibits, programs, or events.
- Use gardening skills to beautify our campus.

- Assist with student field trips.
- Repair equipment or arrange galleries.
- Recruit members and volunteers.
- Photograph activities and events.
- Support programs or publications from your home computer.
- Help maintain our historic buildings.
- Develop your own idea to help Chatham Marconi thrive.

The Volunteer View

"Not only have I learned to appreciate wireless, but it's fun to meet and talk with interesting and knowledgeable people from the United States as well as several foreign countries." -- Sue Plumb
